

Guruji unveils the statue of Shri SAI

“Ecology Understanding”

the new mantra of SAI

A divine marble statue of Shri SAI was unveiled at the New Block of SAI International School by revered Guruji Dr. Chandrabhanu Satpathy on 14th of April.

Following the invocation by the SAI Choir, Esteemed Guruji addressed the gathering of students, staff, parents, and guests and stated that knowledge is not limited to the curriculum that is followed in the schools. Academics alone cannot lead to the wholesome development of a child. He spoke about holistic grooming that encompasses the various dimensions of the brain and reiterated the importance of having a strong character. He urged the society to imbibe the values that will help our future generation to have a solid character.

“Two important things that will lead to the advancement of a school are Devotion and Excellence”, he said before the gathering at the Sushila Devi Auditorium of the School. He said that keeping pace with the latest innovations in knowledge, skills, ideas and curriculum is the need of the hour and that acceptance to these new ideas is important. “Create excellence in education within limit of the available resources” were his views on the latest, ever growing education standards across the globe.

He gave the school the mantra of “Ecology Understanding” and expressed his desire to have this theme in the school as it is of great importance for the kids to see and discover for themselves the eco-system they are living in.
