

SAT & Career Counseling

We are in a time where the market is full of alluring career options for the youth. With the ever growing phenomenon of globalization, the urge in our students to pursue their higher studies abroad in the world class universities of both UK and the US has increased. Therefore it becomes imperative to understand the aptitude of the child and provide him with the options and challenges that come along with each career. At SAI International we believe in facilitating this urge of our students and providing them a platform to prepare themselves suitably for the same and driving them closer to their dreams. We have extended support to our students in making good career choices by organizing Career Counseling Sessions with experts from the field to facilitate our students for achieving their desired goals.

SAT training was provided to students of class XI-XII in the school. This 10-day long intensive coaching program encompassed various components of the test. Students were trained for SAT Reasoning test and SAT Subject test which is divided into five general areas of English, Science, Mathematics, Social Sciences and Languages.

Trainers working with some of the top schools of the country were invited to train the students. Even after the 10 day coaching, the option of online guidance has been made available for our students in case of any ambiguity. Students are in constant touch with the tutors and can seek their help at any time.

Mr. Pradeep Narayan from Admissionz Campus, Delhi visited our school to take a session on 'Education Pathways to Careers' and helped parents and students to make better and informed career choices. The session broadly encompassed the key trends prevailing in India with respect to employment and higher education, possible subject combinations that lead on to different degrees for desired career choice and career options based on the interests of students.

We strongly believe that our students will make the most out of the opportunities given to them and do us all proud. The availability of information from the school campus has substantiated our commitments for excellence in its true virtues.
